

Dennis Erickson General Superintendent

With a driven, take-charge personality, Dennis Erickson has risen through the ranks to become the General Superintendent at Welsh Construction.

As General Superintendent, Dennis oversees the day to day operations of our project superintendents, carpenters and laborers. He is responsible for the overall performance of the field staff including delegating new work; hiring new employees and conducting performance reviews; inventorying warehouse tools, equipment, and materials; performing maintenance and purchasing; enforcing job site safety procedures; and monitoring overall project schedules.

Dennis has been contributing to the construction industry since 1977. He has successfully supervised the completion of Welsh's largest construction projects while mastering the talents and abilities he learned early in his career as a carpenter.

Dennis is a great communicator who will take it upon himself to make certain our clients are informed of job progress, and he will frequently lead our clients on tours through the construction site.

Dennis' years in the business have provided him with a wealth and variety of project experience including retail, office, industrial, religious, food service and residential type projects both on new construction and remodeling.
